

In Acknowledgement of Their Efforts to Promote Healthy People 2030's National Objectives and to Improve Health and Well-being for All, This Certificate Is Presented on this, the 21st of December, 2022, to Recognize That

Is a Healthy People 2030 Champion

Healthy People 2030 Champions are a diverse array of public and private organizations that impact health outcomes at the state, tribal, and local level by committing to working toward Healthy People's overarching goals and objectives in their communities or service areas.

Paul Reed, MD, Rear Admiral (L), U.S. Public Health Service Deputy Assistant Secretary for Health Director, Office of DiseasePrevention and Health Promotion Carter Blakey, Deputy Director
Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion

Carter Blakey

