Am I Still at Risk of Getting Serious COVID-19 Illness?

The virus that causes COVID-19 is still here.

It caused millions of illnesses last year.

Anyone can get very sick with COVID-19.

Some people are at increased risk, including:

- Older Adults
- People with Chronic Lung Disease
- People with Cancer
- People with Diabetes
- People with Heart Conditions
- People with Weakened Immune Systems
- And More

A serious case of COVID-19 illness can lead to complications like pneumonia, hospitalization and Long COVID.

Discuss your individual risk factors and a plan to help prevent serious COVID-19 illness with your healthcare provider.

Learn more at Lung.org/covid19

Support for this education provided by Shionogi | September 2026

1-800-LUNGUSA | Lung.org

American Lung Association.